EO 464 invoked in snub of Senate

By Christine M. Swanson

WHEN GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS LED BY DEPUTY SECRETARY OF Defense Douglas M. Costle, former director of the House Armed and Staff Committee, began their investigation of the Vietnam Veterans' Inquiry into the May 1970 incident, the members of the military and the State Department in Hanoi had just been told that the military was to be held responsible for the deaths of the soldiers, and that the military was to be held responsible for the deaths of the soldiers, and that the military was to be held responsible for the deaths of the soldiers.

Referring to the results, the authors reported a mean value of 0.001 ± 0.001 for the difference in the mean number of cells between the two groups. The authors concluded that the difference was not statistically significant.

'Bongbong' wants Namfrel abolished

DAVAO, July 23 (PNA) — Bongbong Marcos Jr. has said he will abolish Namfrel, the national election watchdog, if he becomes president.

In a statement, Marcos Jr. said he will abolish the body, which is headed by Justice Secretary Rodrigo Duterte, but will not abolish the National Election Commission (NEC).

"The court has ruled that the NEC is a constitutional body," he said. "I will not abolish the NEC, but I will abolish Namfrel."

He said he will also abolish the Commission on Elections (COMELEC) and the Commission on Audit (COA).

He said he will also abolish the Commission on Human Rights (CHR) and the Commission on the Future of Mindanao (COMFUTM).

He said he will also abolish the Commission on the Status of Women (COW) and the Commission on the Status of Children (COSC).

He said he will also abolish the Commission on the Status of the Elderly (CSE) and the Commission on the Status of the Youth (CYS).

He said he will also abolish the Commission on the Status of the Disabled (CSD) and the Commission on the Status of the Indigenous Peoples (CIP).

He said he will also abolish the Commission on the Status of the Overseas Filipino Workers (COWF) and the Commission on the Status of the Overseas Filipino Students (COSF).

GMA orders Cabinet men: Clean up bay now

Manila—The Manila-based GMA network has ordered its 100 stations to clean up their bays now.

The order, issued by GMA President Roberto Sison, is part of a drive to improve the image of the network and its stations. Sison said that the network has a responsibility to the public to ensure that its stations are clean and well-maintained.

The order also includes a provision for the stations to report back to the network on the progress of their cleaning efforts. Sison said that the network will be monitoring the progress of the cleaning drive.

Environmentalism in Depleted curriculum

THE ENVIRONMENTAL curriculum in the Philippines is being depleted, according to a report by the Philippine Environmental Education Association (PEEA).

The report, titled "Environmental Education in the Philippines: A Review of the Curriculum," was released last week. It found that the curriculum is outdated and does not reflect the current state of the environment.

The report also found that the curriculum is not integrated with other subjects, and that there is a lack of emphasis on environmental education in the schools.

The PEEA is a non-profit organization that promotes environmental education in the Philippines. It has been working for many years to improve the quality of environmental education in the country.

Residents also had a poor view of the city's ability to enforce the law. Among the high school seniors the district surveyed, 60 percent agreed, "most cities in the U.S. are unable to enforce the law" and 60 percent agreed "the law is not enforced here because the police are corrupt."

And in the end, the city's law enforcement and judicial system could quickly be overwhelmed.

Buses collide; 8 killed, 41 injured

WRECKAGE of a bus involved in a collision with a truck on a highway in Quezon City, Sunday, Sept. 10.

By Josephine Lopez

At least eight people were killed and 41 injured in a head-on collision between a bus and a truck on a highway in Quezon City, Sunday.

The accident occurred at the intersection of the EDSA and the Alibon Road. The bus, carrying passengers from the University of the Philippines, was heading southbound when it collided with a truck heading northbound.

The truck, a heavy-duty vehicle, was carrying a load of construction materials. The impact was severe, causing the bus to flip over and catch fire. The truck also sustained significant damage.

Emergency services arrived at the scene quickly, but the extent of the injuries was alarming. Several victims were pronounced dead at the scene, while others were taken to nearby hospitals for treatment.

Police are investigating the cause of the accident. They are looking for witnesses and checking the condition of the vehicles involved. The road was closed for several hours to allow for the investigation and the removal of the wreckage.

House nulls murder rap vs drivers in mishaps

By M. L. L. L.

The House of Representatives has nullified a law that held drivers responsible for deaths and injuries in traffic accidents. The law, known as the Traffic Law, had been in effect for many years.

The House voted 10-9 to repeal the law, which had been passed by the Senate. The repeal would mean that drivers would no longer be held criminally responsible for accidents unless they were found to be negligent.

The law had been controversial for a long time. Critics argued that it was unfair to hold drivers responsible for accidents that were caused by other factors, such as poor road conditions or weather. They also argued that the law was outdated and did not reflect current traffic laws.

Proponents of the law argued that it was necessary to hold drivers responsible for accidents to deter reckless driving. They argued that the law was a deterrent and that it helped to reduce the number of accidents.

The repeal of the law is a significant change in traffic law. It will have a major impact on how accidents are handled and on the responsibilities of drivers. The Senate will now have to vote on the repeal.

National meet to tackle hina conservation

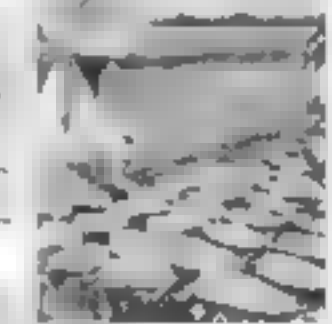

A national meeting to discuss the conservation of the hina bird is being held in Manila. The meeting is being organized by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR).

The hina bird is a rare species found only in the Philippines. It is a small, colorful bird with a distinctive pattern on its head. It is considered a national treasure and is protected by law.

The meeting will bring together experts on the hina bird, as well as representatives from government agencies, NGOs, and the private sector. They will discuss the current status of the hina bird and the threats it faces.

Threats to the hina bird include habitat loss, poaching, and illegal trade. The meeting will focus on developing strategies to protect the bird and its habitat.

The hina bird is a symbol of the Philippines' rich biodiversity. It is a bird that is loved by many Filipinos and is a source of pride for the country. Protecting the hina bird is a priority for the DENR.

Classes resume after 10-day suspension due to A-H1N1

By Christa Tirona

Classes in a school in Manila resumed after a 10-day suspension due to the A-H1N1 virus. The school had been closed since the virus was first detected in the area.

The virus, also known as the swine flu, is a type of influenza. It is highly contagious and can cause severe illness, especially in young children. It was first identified in Mexico in April 2009.

The school had been closed for 10 days to allow for the virus to be contained. During this time, the school staff and students were tested for the virus. All tests came back negative, and the school was deemed safe to reopen.

The students and staff are happy to be back in school. They had missed a lot of time and were eager to get back to their regular routine. The school principal said that the school was proud of the staff and students for their cooperation during the suspension.

The incident has raised concerns about the spread of the virus in schools. Health officials are monitoring the situation closely and advising schools to take precautions to prevent the virus from spreading.

Durian recipe book up during Tagrim festival

A book of durian recipes is being released during the Tagrim festival. The book is being published by the Department of Agriculture (DA).

The Tagrim festival is a celebration of the durian fruit, which is a popular delicacy in the Philippines. It is held annually in the town of Tagrim, in the province of Iloilo.

The book contains a variety of recipes for durian, including traditional dishes and new creations. It is a valuable resource for anyone who loves durian and wants to learn how to cook with it.

The book is being released during the Tagrim festival to promote the durian industry and to encourage people to try different recipes. It is available for purchase at the festival and in bookstores.

The durian industry is an important part of the Philippine economy. It provides a source of income for many farmers and is a major export for the country. The book is a way to support the industry and to promote the durian fruit.

Figure 1. Schematic diagram of the experimental setup. The subject is seated in a chair and views the screen through a mirror. The screen displays the visual feedback of the hand position. The hand is positioned on a horizontal bar. The bar is connected to a motor system that can move the hand in the horizontal plane. The motor system is controlled by a computer. The computer also records the hand position and the force exerted by the hand. The subject is instructed to move the hand from the starting position to the target position. The target position is indicated by a light on the screen. The subject is also instructed to exert a force on the hand. The force is measured by a force sensor. The force sensor is connected to the computer. The computer records the force exerted by the hand. PSALM moves to recover P470B in Napocor debt

Additional charge of 10.44 cent per kWh on consumers

By Noel Banaag
MANILA (Philippine Daily Inquirer) — The Philippine Solar and Light Management (PSALM) has filed a motion with the National Energy Commission (NEC) to recover P470 billion in debt from the National Power Corporation (Napocor). The motion, filed on January 22, seeks to recover the amount from Napocor's assets and to impose an additional charge of 10.44 cent per kilowatt-hour (kWh) on consumers to cover the debt. PSALM, a government-owned enterprise, is the sole provider of solar and light services in the Philippines. It has been in a financial state of crisis for several years, with its debt to Napocor reaching P470 billion. The NEC is the regulatory body for the power sector in the Philippines. It has the authority to approve or disapprove PSALM's motion. The NEC has previously approved PSALM's request for a 10.44 cent per kWh surcharge, but it has not yet approved the recovery of the P470 billion debt. PSALM's motion is a significant development in the ongoing struggle for the company's financial survival. It is a clear indication that PSALM is desperate to recover its debt from Napocor. The NEC's decision on the motion will have a major impact on the power sector in the Philippines. If the NEC approves the motion, it will mean that Napocor will have to pay back PSALM P470 billion. This will be a huge financial burden for Napocor, which is already struggling to meet its obligations to its customers. It will also mean that consumers will have to pay an additional 10.44 cent per kWh to cover the debt. This will be a significant increase in the cost of electricity for consumers. The NEC's decision on the motion is expected to be made in the near future. It will be a major test of the NEC's independence and its ability to protect the interests of consumers.

Printing fresh

By Noel Banaag
MANILA (Philippine Daily Inquirer) — The printing industry in the Philippines is experiencing a period of rapid growth. This is due to the increasing demand for printed materials, such as books, newspapers, and magazines. The industry is also benefiting from the use of new printing technologies, such as digital printing. This has allowed printers to produce higher quality prints at a lower cost. The printing industry is also facing some challenges, such as the increasing cost of raw materials and the competition from online publishing. However, the industry is well-positioned to continue its growth in the coming years. The printing industry is a vital part of the Philippine economy. It provides employment for thousands of people and contributes significantly to the country's GDP. The industry is also a major source of revenue for the government. The printing industry's growth is a reflection of the country's economic development and the increasing demand for printed materials. The industry is expected to continue to grow in the coming years, as the demand for printed materials remains strong. The printing industry is a dynamic and innovative sector. It is constantly evolving and adapting to new technologies and market conditions. The printing industry's growth is a testament to the resilience and adaptability of the Philippine economy.

BPO training firm expands operations

By Reynald Lopez
MANILA (Philippine Daily Inquirer) — A BPO training firm has announced that it is expanding its operations. The firm, which is based in Manila, has opened new offices in several other cities in the Philippines. This move is a sign of the firm's confidence in its business and its commitment to providing high-quality training services. The firm's training services are designed to help BPO companies recruit and train new employees. The firm's training programs cover a wide range of topics, including customer service, sales, and technical skills. The firm's training services are highly regarded by BPO companies, and the firm's reputation for quality training is well-known in the industry. The firm's expansion into other cities is a major step for the firm. It will allow the firm to reach a larger number of BPO companies and to provide training services to a wider range of clients. The firm's expansion is a testament to the success of its training services and to the growing demand for BPO training in the Philippines.

the 1980s and 1990s, the number of immigrants in the United States has increased significantly. In 1980, there were approximately 6 million immigrants in the United States, and by 1990, this number had increased to over 10 million. This increase was primarily due to immigration from Latin America and Asia. In 1980, about 4 million immigrants were from Latin America, and by 1990, this number had increased to over 6 million. Similarly, in 1980, about 2 million immigrants were from Asia, and by 1990, this number had increased to over 4 million. This increase in immigration has had a significant impact on the United States economy and society. Immigrants have contributed to the growth of the United States economy by providing a large labor force and increasing the demand for goods and services. They have also contributed to the cultural diversity of the United States, bringing with them their own customs, traditions, and languages. However, there have also been challenges associated with immigration, such as language barriers and discrimination. Despite these challenges, the United States has continued to attract immigrants, and this trend is expected to continue in the future.
